Qualitative rationale examples

a) Correct high-confidence

True: depression Pred.: depression (1.00) [correct]

Love how tomorrow's supposed to be "off" yet I have to wake up at 6am. I'm gonna be useless by Thursday.

b) Correct high-confidence

True: depression Pred.: depression (1.00) [correct]

Redeyes are useless if you can't sleep on them. And I can't sleep on them unless the person next to me wants to cuddle.

c) Subtle or ambiguous

True: casual Pred.: casual (0.50) [correct]

After a lot of planning I got a way to break down my parents protectiveness. Tomorrow I will go to a sky scraper with a friend after school. We found a easy way to get on the roof. There?s is just a baby fence to climb ...

d) Subtle or ambiguous

True: casual Pred.: casual (0.66) [correct]

I am very ill. Nobody takes it very seriously. My life is pretty much over. Just trying to stop myself from ending things, but am thinking it is the only way out of all of this. I haven't really slept in a year. My ...

e) Negation

True: anxiety Pred.: anxiety (1.00) [correct]

Nearly fell asleep, but was jolted out of bed by a massive panic attack and now I'm not sure if I can sleep at all.

f) Figurative-language candidate

True: depression Pred.: depression (1.00) [correct]

i'm so lethargic today i feel like rolling up in a call and watching friends reruns

g) Failure case

True: casual Pred.: depression (1.00) [error]

ughhh, getting out of bed when its cold is so hard! where's summer?

h) Strong rationale effect

True: depression Pred.: depression (1.00) [correct]

I can't WAIT for Collective Souls brand new tune STARING DOWN to hit NUMBER ONE!!!! AND IT WILL!!!! JUST WATCH AND SEE!

Darker shading denotes higher selector probability; outlined bold tokens form the deterministic top- ρ rationale.